

Declaration of Implementation of GRP Guidelines

Daeheung IBN strives to spread the SDGs (Sustainable Development Goals), a common goal of the UN and the international community, and declares the implementation of the GRP Guidelines, an international environmental standard based on the UN Environment Convention, to expand eco-friendly management as follows.

1. In order to reduce plastic, strict standardization and standardization of plastic products are required, and in particular, the use of composite materials and materials that are difficult to recycle should be avoided. Raise the awareness of corporate policy makers on this.
2. Establish plans to expand the use of vegetable and biodegradable plastics.
3. Take an interest in campaigning for the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) on Arctic and Greenland ice loss.
4. Currently, it is estimated that 80% of marine debris is plastic, which is also a very large potential hazard to humans. We share the company's awareness of marine pollution in this regard.
5. We publicize the company's efforts to meet the UN SDGs (Sustainable Development Goals), respond to climate change, and prevent global warming, and guide participation in daily life.
6. Recognize the industries that have the greatest impact on climate change, and prepare voluntary policies for greenhouse gas reduction in those industries.
